The full text of the letter being mailed to stockholders follows:

Vote the WHITE Proxy Card to Reap the Benefit of Your Board's Strategic Plan – Don't Let the Value of Your Investment Wind Up in Carl Icahn's Pocket

April 7, 2022

Dear Fellow Southwest Gas Stockholder,

There is a fundamental difference between your Board's approach to value creation and Carl Icahn's.

Your Board and management team have taken decisive action to deliver stockholder value by building a company of complementary businesses, optimizing each business and taking action to unlock value when the time is right. The upside of this strategy, and the value inherent in your Company, belong to you and all stockholders.

By contrast, Mr. Icahn is intent on capturing the value of Southwest Gas for himself, and no one else. He is seeking control of our Board solely to facilitate his inadequate and self-serving tender offer to acquire the outstanding shares of the Company for $82.50 per share. If he is successful, Mr. Icahn alone will enjoy the upside, and you will never have the chance to obtain the value your Board expects to achieve.

The fact is that Mr. Icahn could not be more wrong in his assessment of the Board's strategy, and in his criticism of the Company's recent acquisition of MountainWest. We have consistently stated our expectation that the transaction will be accretive to earnings in 2022. As a direct result of our decision to spin-off Centuri, we were recently able to issue the full amount of equity needed to permanently finance the MountainWest acquisition in a highly efficient manner. As a result of the reduced amount of equity financing required and the higher price relative to our initial assumptions, we now expect the acquisition of MountainWest to deliver significantly more accretion to EPS in 2022 and beyond. Southwest Gas expects to achieve EPS uplift of $0.26 – $0.34 (or 6% – 8%) in 2022 compared to consensus EPS estimates as of Q2 2021 (i.e., immediately prior to the announcement of the Riggs Distler acquisition).

MOUNTAINWEST IS A UNIQUE, IMPOSSIBLE-TO-REPLICATE ASSET WITH STRATEGIC VALUE TO SOUTHWEST GAS, ACQUIRED AT AN ATTRACTIVE VALUATION

MountainWest's 2,000 miles of highly contracted, FERC-regulated interstate natural gas pipelines in the Rocky Mountain region make it a unique and structurally advantaged asset that could not be replicated today. MountainWest also allows for the delivery of natural gas to support the ongoing deployment of intermittent renewable generation.

In MountainWest, the Board identified an asset that was undervalued and well-aligned with Southwest Gas' long-term value creation goals. The fact that MountainWest was not managed as a core asset under prior ownership also presented an opportunity for us to unlock further value through focused management as a core strategic component of Southwest Gas. We paid a fair price for MountainWest, below historical trading multiples and recent transaction multiples – and trading multiples have only continued to expand since the acquisition, highlighting the attractive price for our purchase of such a unique asset.

MountainWest provides a number of compelling financial and strategic benefits to Southwest Gas and our stockholders, including:

- ✓ Broadening the Company's flexibility to source and allocate growth capital;
- ✓ Generating 90% contracted revenue with over 70% of revenue backed by investment grade customers;
- ✓ Providing improved rate base and regulatory diversification, as well as strong, stable cash flows;
- ✓ Reducing Southwest Gas' reliance on capital markets for the significant capital investment required by continued LDC growth; and
- ✓ Providing scale and stability to further allow for the planned spin-off of Centuri.

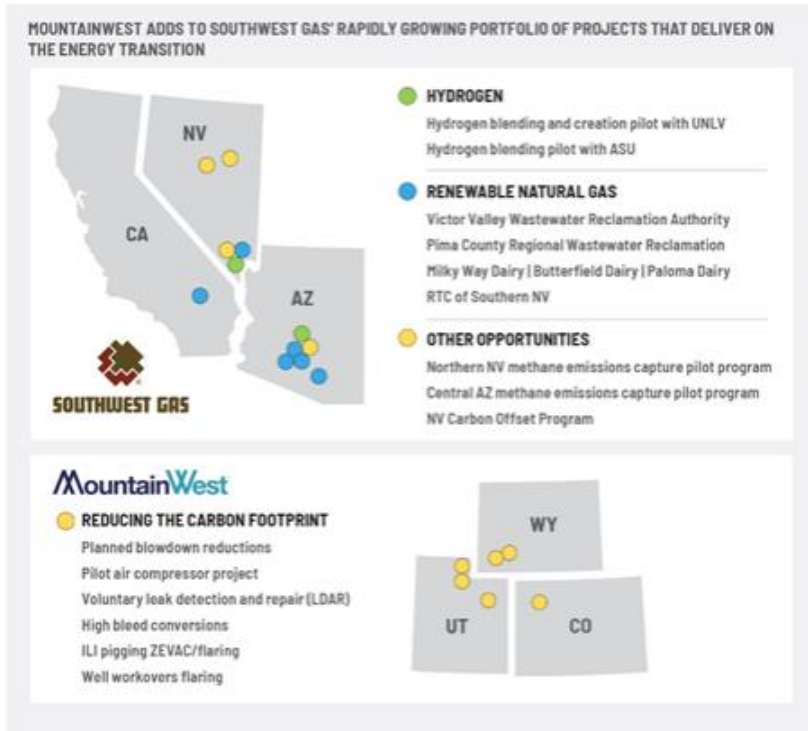

We are on track with the integration of MountainWest and are already benefiting from strong operating cash flows from the acquisition. We expect MountainWest revenues will be $240 million to $245 million in 2022 with a run rate EBITDA margin of 68% to 72%.

Moreover, Mr. Icahn's claims that (i) Southwest Gas is an outlier in now owning an attractive and adjacent FERC-regulated business and (ii) all industry participants are pursuing divestiture strategies to be only regulated utilities are factually incorrect. The fact is that many utilities own assets – whether pipeline, storage, renewables or otherwise – including highly respected utilities such as Atmos, Sempra and Southern Company. Furthermore, while some electric utilities have divested gas businesses, Southwest Gas is a gas utility, and owning a gas pipeline business is a compelling and natural fit for us that provides many exciting benefits.

MountainWest also provides a significant opportunity to benefit from investment in the energy transition. Your Board and management team are committed to positioning Southwest Gas as a leader in the evolving energy landscape. MountainWest positions Southwest Gas to explore and deliver on numerous attractive opportunities in renewable natural gas, responsibly sourced natural gas, hydrogen and CO<sub>2</sub> transportation.

We have identified numerous opportunities to enhance the value of the MountainWest assets and to foster company growth, including several gas-to-conversion projects within our service area with potential in-service dates of late 2023 to late 2024. One of these projects has already been contracted, and we have continued to advance others through development since the completion of the acquisition of MountainWest. In addition, we are evaluating a potential expansion of the Overthrust Pipeline with an estimated in-service date of late 2025.

Your Board and management team have the plan and skills to grow Southwest Gas through the energy transition. Mr. Icahn does not.

DRIVING VALUE THROUGH STRONG AND STABLE REGULATED EARNINGS AND THE ANNOUNCED SEPARATION OF CENTURI

As a direct result of our decision to separate Centuri via a spin-off that is expected to be tax free, we were able to issue the full amount of equity needed to permanently finance the MountainWest acquisition in a highly efficient manner. Following discussions with credit rating agencies, we were able to successfully reduce the originally expected equity portion of the MountainWest financing by ~50%. Following the financing, S&P Global placed Southwest Gas Holdings' long-term ratings on CreditWatch Positive.

This successful equity offering:

- ✓ Was multiple times oversubscribed;
- ✓ Broadly distributed new equity to 100+ new and current stockholders; and
- ✓ Was executed in one day with minimal, if any, impact on our market price.

There is no basis for Mr. Icahn's claim that stockholders have been diluted by "more than 25%." The offering was distributed to a diverse set of purchasers, including many existing stockholders. We conducted our equity offering in keeping with market best practices and with the best interests of all of our stockholders in mind. Our objective was to complete the offering with the most certainty and efficiency, and we were pleased that so many of our existing stockholders elected to participate.

We are baffled that Mr. Icahn continues to push a false narrative about voting rights attached to the newly issued shares. Time and time again we have stated that the equity offering was completed well after the March 21, 2022 record date had passed. As such, none of the shares issued in the financing will have voting rights at the Annual Meeting.

It is also worth reiterating that Mr. Icahn falsely claimed that he made a bona fide offer to purchase all of the equity to finance the MountainWest transaction at $82.50. In fact, Mr. Icahn made his illusory offer only after the Company announced the commencement of the public offering of common stock on March 28th, 2022. When the Company's financial advisors earlier contacted Mr. Icahn on February 21st, 2022 to better understand the terms on which he would be willing to participate in an equity financing for MountainWest, Mr. Icahn stated that he would only be willing to provide financing if his tender offer closed first or, if the Company agreed to move forward with the tender offer and it did not close, he would provide financing on terms that he declined to define.

Mr. Icahn also failed to mention it would be illegal for Mr. Icahn to buy shares of SWX in a financing in light of his pending tender offer.

As a result of the reduced amount of equity financing required and the higher price relative to our initial assumptions, we now expect to deliver significantly more accretion to EPS in 2022 and beyond. In fact, one research analyst published the following comments in a recent report with an increased share price target for Southwest Gas:

“As a result of the reduced equity needs we are raising our ‘22E by 3% and a 6% revision on our ‘23E based on our initial calculations, as we see upside to EPS from the issuance and ability for shares to re-rate off of the clearing of the overhang. We believe the accretion of the 2021 acquisitions is underappreciated in the current share price...” Bank of America Global Research, 30 March 2022<sup>1</sup>

PROTECT THE VALUE OF YOUR SOUTHWEST GAS INVESTMENT: VOTE THE WHITE PROXY CARD TODAY

Your Board is driving results through strategic value creation opportunities and will continue to take the actions that are in the best interest of Southwest Gas and ALL of its stockholders.

When you cut through the noise surrounding Carl Icahn’s proxy fight, the issue is simple:

- Mr. Icahn said he is nominating 10 candidates in support of his efforts to take control of the Company for $82.50 per share.
- Your Board believes the Company is worth more than $82.50... and so does Mr. Icahn. In fact, Mr. Icahn says the sum of the parts is between $114 and $144 per share.

What’s at stake is whether the value represented by a share in Southwest Gas should go to all stockholders, or only to Mr. Icahn.

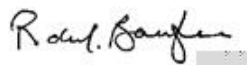

This is a critical moment for Southwest Gas and your investment in the Company, and we urge you to protect the value of that investment by supporting your Board and management team. We are confident that our forthcoming spin-off of Centuri, the efficient equity financing of the MountainWest acquisition and the realization of our strategic plans will deliver significantly greater value than Mr. Icahn’s $82.50 offer.

On behalf of your Board and the management team, thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Michael J. Melarkey
Chairman

Robert L. Boughner
Incoming Chairman
